Mr. Coker has been professor of mathematics at Winthrop College since 1896.

William C. Coker graduated in 1894, taking the B. S. degree. He was employed in the Atlantic National Life Insurance Company, Charleston, from 1892 to 1897. In 1897 he entered Johns Hopkins University, where he took work in the departments of biology and geology and was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa.

He studied botany at the University of Bonn, in Germany, 1901-1902. He is now assistant professor of botany at the University of North Carolina. Mr. Coker has published a number of botanical papers.

Francis Le Jau Parker was graduated in 1896, taking the A. B. degree. He went to the University of Chicago, where he took the B. S. degree in 1900. He pursued his studies in Johns Hopkins University, where he took the B. A. degree in 1901. He was assistant professor of engineering at the Southern California Military Academy, 1890-1901. He is now professor of chemistry and physics at the College of the Pacific.

Charles Heyward Barnwell, who graduated with the A. B. degree in 1897, was a member of the Clariosophic Society. After graduation he was private secretary to President John M. McBride, of South Carolina College. He was adjunct professor of modern languages at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute from 1884 to 1892. He did graduate work at Harvard University from 1892 to 1894, taking the A. M. degree in 1894. Professor Barnwell had the chair of English at Hollins Institute, Virginia, from 1894 to 1897. He returned to Harvard and did graduate work there in 1897-1898, having the Ph. D. degree conferred on him in 1898. He was instructor in English in Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O., from 1898 to 1899. Since 1899 he has been professor of English at the University of Alabama, and is now dean of the faculty.

David Franklin Houston, who is to be secretary of the editor, class of June, 1898, graduated in 1894, taking the A. B. degree. He was tutor in Latin and Greek in South Carolina College, 1887-1888. He was superintendent of the Spartanburg schools from 1888 to 1891. Mr. Houston entered Harvard in 1892, and was president of the Graduates Club, 1893-1894. In 1894 he took a postgraduate course in political economy at the University of Texas. Later he was made president of the University of Texas. He was a member of the board of visitors of the University of Texas. He was president of the South Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College, and held the presidency of the organization in 1903-1904. Mr. Hamer has also been a member of the board of trustees of the University since 1904.

Paul Vernon Moore, '94, is an agronomist of note from the upper part of the State. Mr. Moore won a thousand-dollar prize and many medals with his agricultural exhibit at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Mr. Moore has charge of the South Carolina exhibit at the Jamestown Fair. He is now president of the South Carolina Ornithological and Biological Association of Spartanburg County.

S. T. Donaldson, '98, and J. H. Donaldson, '89, are two extensive rice producers. The little raisers of Garrett towns, S. T. and J. H. Donaldson, are State chemists for a number of years.

James Lucas McIntosh of Doavesville and Robert Ervin James of Darlington are two very successful farmers who attended Carolina for two years.

Good fellowship was simply overflowing at the last student body meeting.

Edwin Grenville Seibels (Vol. II Hemphill's "Men of Mark in South Carolina.")

Edwin Grenville Seibels, son of Edwin Chalmers Seibels, and Marie J. (Smith) Seibels, was born at Columbia, S. C., in September, 1866. Mr. Seibels' first schooling was obtained under Mrs. Frank Ehmore; later he attended Capt. Hugh Thompson's Academy; his higher education was followed with a course at South Carolina University, from which institution he was graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1890. Mr. Seibels found him little struggle, although he paid his own way.

His life work began when in September, 1886, he assumed charge of his father's insurance office. His original desire was to be an engineer and work was offered him in connection with the Panama Railway, but circumstances took him instead into insurance. Since that time he has been constantly connected with this business. From September, 1886, to January, 1889, he was special agent for a fire insurance company; in 1889 he went to Columbia, S. C., where he was a member of the firm of E. W. Seibels & Son; from 1888 to 1892, special agent of various companies, in 1892, general adjuster of fire losses; in 1893 he became Southern President of the Glenn Falls Insurance Company; in 1900 he was appointed manager of the Rochel-glenn Falls Insurance Company of New Hampshire Insurance Company, with the Glenn Falls Company. Since that date he has had the management of the Michigan Mutual, American Insurance Company, of New York, and the Royal Exchange Assurance Corporation; he also manages a large foreign marine insurance business. In addition Mr. Seibels has held the office of president of the The Park and Park City Company of the city of Columbia. He was president of the South Carolina United Fire Association Company, and promoted the movement for the establishment of an endowment fund for the college by the alumni association, and is the president of the board of trustees of the University for 1905, and was elected a member of the State legislature in 1905.

He was the first president of the Clariosophic Society to be benefited from the junior students. He is president of the South Carolina Club and of other social clubs; he is also a Mystic Shriner in the Masonic Order, a member of the Columbia Alumni fraternity, the Columbia Club and the Metropolitan Club.

Mr. Seibels is a gold Democrat and an Episcopalian.

His advice to young Americans is: "Be straightforward. Help others whenever an opportunity presents itself. Don't tell your business, but never do anything illegal, because you could not tell.""