PERSONALS

We are glad to see M. F. Winter back again. He has been out of school for several weeks on account of sickness.

Prof. Patterson Wardlaw conducted a class in methods of teaching in the high school. The Lawrence teachers' meeting on March 9.

G. M. Collier, assistant business manager of the Garnet and Black, enlisted last week in the quartermasters corps at Camp Jackson.

Dr. Wauschke spoke at Benedict college on Sunday evening at vesper service before an audience of 500 students. He spoke on the "Book of Job—a Problem Drama of the Mystery of Human Suffering."

Mr. J. D. Dusenberg, a former Carolina student, spent a few days on the campus last week before returning to Basha-ville. "Duse" enlisted in the army and after serving a few days was given his honorable discharge on the grounds of physical disability.

Prof. E. Marion Rucker spoke at Lynchburg get a patriotic rally on March 12; and again at Lake City March 15 before an audience of four thousand people. He has an engagement to speak at St. Matthews on April 5.

The many friends of J. M. Mills, Jr., will be interested to learn that several announcements have been received on the campus of his marriage on March 2 to Miss Eulalie Stone of Charleston-on-Kanamha, W. Va. Mr. Mills is at present engaged in solving transportation problems for the Triple State Electric College of Charleston, W. Va. His many friends wish for him that he may be able to add to his life history "and they lined happily ever after."

Prof. Victor E. Rector spoke at the Lebanon school in Fairfield county on March 18; and was the following engagements: March 22, at the Heathwood school, Richland county; March 23, at the Sumter county teachers' meeting; March 29, at the Mack School in Orangeburg county; April 4, at Orangeburg at a food conservation meeting; April 5, at Saluda at the county field day exercises; April 22, at the Ward's school in Saluda county; May 10, at commencement exercises at the Plum Branch school in McCormick county.

S. M. Siford has returned to college, after having undergone an operation for tonsilitis.