W. C. A. HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

In spite of the inclemency of the weather, the University Women’s Club of the Y. W. C. A. had one of the most delightful meetings of the year Wednesday afternoon of last week. Miss Heller, Secretary of the South Atlantic Division of the Y. W. work was present and addressed the girls in a most forceful manner upon the purpose of the Young Women’s Christian Association, using as a basis of her talk the words of the Master, “I have come that ye might have life and have it more abundantly.” Special music was rendered by a quartette, members of the Carolina organization.

A delightful social hour was spent together, being in the form of a Valentine party and everybody declared it most enjoyable occasion.

Miss Heller met with the members of the Cabinet on Thursday and the chairman of the various committees with Miss Heller’s aid planned a definite program for their committees for the remaining months of this year. She met with the Cabinet again on Thursday of this week after the Student Volunteer Conference to make further plans for the Association to follow during the Spring term. It is hoped that this Conference will prove to be a great blessing to the Carolina girls through their representatives who will at an early date take charge of a Y. W. meeting and try to create among the girls some of that great enthusiasm which characterized these Volunteer Conferences.

CHAMPIONSHIP LOST BY SLENDER MARGIN

with a good big man. Both teams played star ball and it is difficult to pick out individual stars.

Carolina Loses to Newberry.

Carolina encountered a serious handicap in her race for the championship when she lost to the fast Newberry team on the latter floor Thursday night. It is a tradition that it is impossible to beat the Indians on their own floor but having already lost to them on the home court the Gamecock went to Newberry with the determination to bring home the bacon if possible. The game was one of the fastest that has been seen on the Newberry court with the bigger and heavier men from Carolina leading at the end of the first half. However it is the end of the game that counts and at the end of the game the score was in favor of the local team. This game will practically end the championship for the Newberry eleven since Carolina and Citizen del has been eliminated—unless something happens and Newberry loses some of its games with the weaker teams of the state. The game was hard fought and it was not until the last whistle blew that either team lost hope of the game. Carolina played a hard and fast game and so far as the players were concerned the game was close throughout.

A large crowd saw the game, indeed the gymnasium was so crowded that the people were standing over the line. The final score was 34-27.

“LOMBARDI LTD.”

Leo Carrillo in “Lombardi Ltd.” played a return engagement at the Columbia Theatre February 17th. This was a very interesting and different play from what we usually see. At the night performance Mr. Carrillo was called for a certain speech. He stressed the need for supporting decent plays and so made it possible to produce plays worth while.

One could not keep from noticing the absence of students at this show. There were only one or two in the gallery, the place where they usually are.

At a musical comedy of double value they pack in until it is impossible to get a seat in the road.

STUDENTS TAKE PART IN TOWN THEATRE PLAYS

Mr. Daniel A. Reed, director of the Columbia Stage Society, has been using University students in the casts for his plays. In practically every show staged by the Stage Society there have been one or more students.

Perhaps the largest number of Carolina boys in any one play will be seen in the next large play, “The Great Divide.” The students who will take part are Albert Ambo, Joe Wheeler and Theodore Kohn.

“Where is the dam plan?” said Henry Ford to the engineer as he looked over Muscle Shoals—Exchange.
