of the building. Galleries will also be added to care for the increasing crowds at the basketball games and other student activities held there. The lower floor or basement will also be improved. The number ofLeslie's crypts will be increased, and other renovations will be added.

Nothing has been done in the way of renovating the two wings of Harris Hall, which are now being considered for this work.

President Molton asks that plans are pending that will call for the placing of iron safety bars on the corner and on the sides of the front court. Such bars will help to add to the attractiveness of the campus.

This is a small improvement, but greatly needed, will be the placing of iron safety bars on the sides of the front court. Such bars will help to add to the attractiveness of the campus.

The doors of the Tennis Drive will be reinforced for the enlargement of the athletic field. At present two teams can not practice at the same time. Work has been started. The next team will be removed and the ground between it and the monastery will be put down for a regular football athletic field. It will further help to increase the number of athletes over what it is now.

Professor Parkinson is visiting the University of North Carolina this week to get work. He is making a study of the operation of that university and it is hoped to exchange the records of our extension service next year.

K. B. Hope, acting secretary, left Wednesday for Charleston, Va., to attend the convention of the Association of Southern Schools at the University of Virginia. Mr. Hope will remain several days.

Plans are being pushed for the planting of the paths and removing of the guard rail on the building as a matter of economy. It will be several years before the entire plan can be carried out. While this is being done the plan for beautifying the campus will continue, and some flowers will be planted.

While all of the improvements are done as soon as the buildings, the student's Hall will not be overlooked. The entire hall will be remodeled, new chairs and tables will be added, as are now existing during the month of June.

By way of conclusion, it is safe to say that everything is going to hand hand.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

The Extension Department is housed in the old President's building at the head of the main quadrangle. Among those who will be assisted by University students, from here, will be conducted their rooms on the campus. All general information concerning the High School activities during the week can be had from any member of the Extension Division staff.

DEBATING TEAMS HAVE a wonder land.

The debating teams at the University of South Carolina have been made a record in which the University has taken a great step, and the result will have a marked effect on the future of the state. The University of Georgia, with 721 students and 77 teachers; the University of Florida, with 1,326 students and 27 teachers; and the University of South Carolina, with 1,340 students and 35 teachers, making a combined total of 4,014 students and 243 teachers, are the University of South Carolina.

of the question debated involved such points as the nature of education, and the effect of competition on the individual.
