Annual Thanksgiving Hop to Be Held in Gymnasium by the Social Committee

ALL CAROLINA AFFAIR

Admittance by Presentation of Athletic Tickets to LaMette's Orchestra to Play

Admittance will be free, but in order to make it an exclusive Carolina dance, all men students will have to present their athletic passes before they will be permitted to enter.

It has been the custom for the Gamecocks to parade for the annual Thanksgiving dance, but as they have a scheduled engagement at the University of North Carolina, Walden LaMette and his Orchestra will in all probability play this year.

Mrs. Rucker Soon to Move Off the Campus

Wife of Late Prof. Marion E. Rucker Will Move Home with Miss Dillard

Mrs. Marion E. Rucker, wife of the late Professor Rucker, noted lawyer and public speaker, is now in her home on the campus.

Mrs. Rucker is going to live in one of the small houses with Miss Ernest Dillard. She has not made any definite plans for the future, but it is probable that she will become connected with the University.

Professor and Mrs. Rucker were married in August, 1915, and Mrs. Rucker was raised in her present home since that time, making it 11 years. "I have lived here since Mr. Rucker's death because I love the old place so much and because he requested that I do so," is Mrs. Rucker's attitude toward her home.
