WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Georgetown Hoyas defeated the University of Maryland Terps 6-4 in men's tennis action on Friday afternoon.

The Hoyas improved to 4-1 on the season with the win, while the Terps fell to 2-2. Georgetown has now won three straight matches against Maryland, having defeated them 7-0 last year and 6-1 the year before.

Georgetown's doubles teams of Anubhav Sarmah and Devansh Varma, and Frank Riedel and Alex O'Gorman, each recorded straight set victories.

Single wins were recorded by Sarmah, O'Gorman, Anesh Thapa, and Riedel. O'Gorman won 6-1, 6-2, Thapa won 6-2, 6-0, and Riedel won 6-2, 6-2.

The Hoyas will next face off against the Virginia Cavaliers on Saturday, March 11th. The match is scheduled to begin at 2:00 pm at the Kastles Stadium in Washington, D.C.
