BY SANDY CRANDALL

Final arrangements have been made by Mr. Joe Lawrence, head of the university post office, for the distribution of the cards for the WUSC campus mailing list. These cards will be placed in each post office box some time today. Please select the program type preferred and drop the card in the WUSC box at the post office lobby.

PIKAs
delivered with fresh loved ones in the memory of the late Mrs. Peter Cottontail.

This worthy rabbit made his home in the vicinities of the station for many, many years; but alas, he was the most of them who have left the world forever.

Mr. Cottontail was duly interred with all the dignity and sentiment due one so highly beloved and remembered.

The interment is noticed with an inscription upon the stone and to the right of the front wall of the station.

In case anyone is wondering about the locomotives as they pass, it is the custom of the station agents to give them the same greetings as they would to the passengers who would WUSC while en route.

After four hours of hard labor, the engineering staff is now in a position to feed round the speakers.
