The Gamecock

Three Gamecock Boys In NCAA Meet

Baseballers Leave Home Next Week Facing Clemson, Wake Forest, Duke

While expected to go back into action with a likely schedule featuring four games, all on the road. The Boys play Clemson Monday, Wake Forest Wednesday, and then travel to North Carolina for games with Wake Forest and Duke.

Coach Ted Peteck has advised the boys about the need for defense, something that was totally lacking in the games with Duke and Michigan State. Batting drills were also scheduled and practiced to sharpen a few hitting eyes. The Gamers have a disadvantage on the bases and the pitching will answer the speed of the Dexter and BU MBF.

In facing Clemson, the Gamecock meet a team that has been rated right up there in the SEC. There are a few runners returning from last year’s team. One of these is a fellow who hit .400. The Tigers are regarded as one of the tough SEC teams.

In the game against Wake Forest, the boys will have a tough opponent to deal with. Wake Forest is one of the strongest SEC teams. The Wake Forest and Duke games are a big test for the team.
