USC Senate Hears Three Resolutions

Three resolutions were passed last Wednesday at the weekly Student Senate meeting.

The first, cited by the administration, was to extend the time limit on deposit of courses until mid-term.

Another resolution, directed to the USC Athletic Department, requested that more time be devoted to the student senate at the Intramural basketball games, since many students are forced to buy tickets for the concerts instead of being added to the student season.

A resolution, introduced by Tim Quinn, stated that the University Board of Regents was present at the student senate meetings and the resolution was passed unanimously.
