Nero gives first lecture

Most of the 130 USC student veterans have not received any VA compensation as veterans' admistration checks. Apparently, the VA has been unable to locate any student veterans.

"We are going to do all in our power to see that this does not happen," said David Myers, assistant register of USC students. "We have been very active in representing students in the VA regarding compensation for their service." Myers also said he is aware of more than 30 student veterans who have "the certificates required."

He added that he had no idea how many student veterans had been overlooked.

Robert B. Riley, director of student services, said he was unaware of any student veterans who had not been issued VA compensation.

"We've been making sure that all eligible veterans received their VA compensation," Riley said. "And we've been working hard to make sure that everyone is aware of the process." Riley said he was confident that all eligible veterans would eventually receive their VA compensation.

Stadium funding saving from capital improvements

The controversy over enlarging Carolina Stadium and building a new one has been going on for years. Yesterday by an administrative action, President B. J. Jones, Carolina's basketball, football, and baseball coach, recommended to the Board of Trustees that the stadium be enlarged.

"I want to clarify the procedure that was followed in preparing legislation to authorize construction of both facilities as well as other badly needed physical structures on the campus," Dr. Jones said. "The only thing we were trying to do was to provide a state-of-the-art facility that would be more appealing to our fans."

Dr. Jones said that the proposed improvements would be funded through a bond issue, which would be sold to the public.

The Board of Trustees voted unanimously in favor of the proposal. The bond issue will go before the voters in the next election. The new stadium is expected to open in time for the 1980 football season.

All motorcycles parked within the parking area will be towed away. The staff of the parking enforcement office will be on the prowl on Monday and Tuesday, and a police officer will be on hand on Wednesday.

The bill provides for a new parking regulation that will take effect immediately. Vehicles parked in excess of 24 hours will be towed.

No action taken on traffic proposal

The Traffic Committee of the University of South Carolina has not yet taken any action on a proposal presented by President Mike Spears and First Lady Beverly Spears that would increase the number of parking spaces on campus.

Spears and Spears were the only members of the committee who were present at the meeting. The committee reportedly decided to defer action on the proposal until more information is available.

Committee gains own night club

The Night Club Committee has been given its own night club. The students have voted to have their own night club, which will be located in the basement of the Student Union.

"We are excited about having our own night club," said John Smith, chairman of the Night Club Committee. "We have been working on this for a long time, and we are finally able to make it happen." Smith said that the committee will be responsible for all aspects of the night club, including staffing and security.
