Ken Powell at Young GOP meeting

The USC Young Republicans were hosts for a day-long meeting of the state's Young Republicans Saturday at the Campus Room in Capstone.

Speakers included Kenneth Powell, chairman of the S.C. Republican Party (pictured above), Joe Abate, national chairman of Young Republicans and Harry Dent, member of President Nixon's staff.

"Cat on a Hot Tin Roof"

BY BORRIGALKE
Staff Writer

Tennessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is classed among his best works. Town Theater has undertaken to produce this psychological masterpiece and realizing what a task this is, has assembled what ought to be one of the finest casts ever to appear in a community theater anywhere. Incredible as it may seem, as one reads over the cast, Williams' "Cat" is merely adequate.

In the role of Maggie, the "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," is Kathy Dreiman. She does not bring to the stage the intensity or depth of character necessary for a better-than-average portrayal of a woman stranded in a marital situation she does not like but will do nothing to change. She must leave it to her husband Brick, played by Kathy Dreiman's off-stage husband, David. Mr. Dreiman, too seems drained, restrained and merely adequate in the role. His portrayal of an alcoholic living in the past and blaming himself for the death of his closest friend does not do Williams' writing justice. Brick comes across as a man who is quiet and feeling sorry for himself, instead of a man of pent-up dynamism.

In the two other major roles of Big Daddy and Big Mama are Jim E. Quick and Bette Herring. Mrs. Herring, in trying not to try too hard, didn't try enough to create a character that would hold up on stage as being different from her own. Mrs. Herring will disappoint those who know her with her portrayal of Big Mama as being only a slightly older picture of herself.

Quick, possibly one of the most experienced and talented actors in the Southeast, was a bitter disappointment. His talent and

"Medicine and Law"

A program in "Medicine and the Law," for doctors and lawyers involved in the personal injury field will take place at USC March 26-27.

Sponsored by the USC School of Law, S.C. Medical Association and the Continuing Legal Education Division of the S.C. Bar Association, the program will be in the University's Capstone House. Topics to be discussed at the meeting include doctor-litigation problems, disability evaluation, law and psychiatry and medical malpractice.

CHEDDAR BLOSSOM PRINTS"88

Two USC coeds will represent the states of Alaska and South Carolina in the annual Cherry Blossom Festival beginning next week in Washington, D.C.

Rosemary Poyosky, a freshman at Carolina, is princess from Alaska, and Polly Spann of Charleston represents the Palmetto State.

VIANA MCCOWN LECTURER
Dr. Dorothy Ann Mereness, a nursing educator who is well-known as a specialist in psychiatric nursing will give the annual Viana McCown Lecture in Nursing Friday, April 2, at USC.

Dr. Mereness, dean of the University of Pennsylvania's School of Nursing, will give the eighth lecture in a series that is designed to bring outstanding speakers of the nursing profession to the USC campus. The lectureship was endowed by the late Viana McCown who was the first director of the then Department of Nursing at USC.

Invitations to the lecture have been sent to nursing students, alumnae, educators and others in health professions.

Further information and reservations for the lecture and luncheon may be obtained from Mrs. Mary Black at the USC College of Nursing.

HORRORS RECESS

All men's residence halls will close for Spring Recess no later than 6 p.m. Thursday, April 8.
