as 30 players each year.

Six of the recruits are quarterbacks, some of whom will be shifted to defensive back positions, according to the coaching staff. The list includes: Brooks Williamson (5-10, 185) of Darlington, Brett Bond (6-1, 205) of Ironon, Ohio and Mark Bridges (5-10, 170) of Kershaw. Also, Lenny Gallo (5-11, 175) from Pittsburgh, Penn., Greg Gresham (5-10, 185) from Jacksonville, Fla. and Steve Swinehart (6-2, 195) from Lancaster, Ohio.

Six of the recruits are linebackers. They are: John Boyle (6-2, 215) from Atlanta, Ga., Steve Ledford (6-1, 210) from Largo, Fla. and Harold Remminger (6-2, 210) from Valdosta, Ga. Also, Perry Philips (6-3, 220) from Rome, Ga., Tim Singleton (6-2, 220) from Charleston, and Heyward Quattlebaum (6-1, 210) from Irmo.

USC signed three running backs. They are: Steve Dorsey (6-1, 205) from Baltimore, Md., Spencer Clark (6-1, 170) from Fleming, Ga. and Jeff Kendorzki (6-1, 211) from Hopeida, Ohio.

Four receivers were signed. They are: John Bailey (6-3, 190) from Birmingham, Mich., Gary Burger (6-2, 175) from Atlanta, Ga. and Bill Sarrocco (6-4, 220) from Ravenna, Ohio. Also, Zion McKinney (6-0, 175) from Pickens, S.C.

The Gamecocks recruited three defensive ends. They are: Dan Palve (6-2, 210) from Struthers, Ohio, Danny Hammer (6-3, 215) from Tampa, Fla. and Nat Veul (6-2, 185) from Hialeah, Fla.

The remaining recruits included: Fred Sinclair, a middle guard (6-0, 218) from Miami, Fla., Bill Rome, a defensive tackle and offensive lineman (6-2, 220) from Zanesville, Ohio, defensive back (5-10, 185) Alfonzo Stevens from Riceburn, Ga. and Ben Corbett (6-2, 210) a tight end from Greenville.

Four of the six signees from South Carolina participated in the Shrine Bowl except Williamson who declined for personal reasons and Quattlebaum, whose team was involved in post season playoffs. Williamson and Singleton were selected to Parade Magazine’s All-America team, a list that ranked them among the nations top 50.

Bowlers qualify for Nationals

Carolina’s Bowling Club, currently leading the Southern Intercollegiate Bowling Conference with a 6-0 record, has been assured of a berth in the National Tournament by winning the Association of College Unions-International (ACU-I) tournament at Knoxville, Tenn. recently.

Jeff Bellinger won the individual championship with a 200 per game average, and Dave Leadbitter bowled a 197 average to enable Carolina to win the tournament with a 912 overall score.

There are 15 regional tournaments which take place nationwide, and USC will meet one of the winners, yet to be decided, March 29. Carolina’s Steve Adams also won the singles event with a 623 series for three games.

“This is the best Carolina team ever, and we have improved a lot since last year,” said team captain Matt Cuferton. “Our team is well-rounded and we all play well together.” The bowling club has a roster of ten players, but only six compete in matches.
