Letter to Patterson commends USC

Couple praises vacationing students

At the request of President Patterson, please print the attached letter in The Gamecock. The president is happy to have the opportunity to commend these students for their good deeds.

Dear Dr. Patterson,

I am writing this letter to compliment you and the University of South Carolina on the fine behavior of a number of your students who spent a week's holiday at Edgewater Lodge, in Long Key, Florida. These young people were our neighbors during the week of March 12-19. They were soft-spoken, polite, considerate and completely well-mannered. They were most kind, and even invited us to participate in their outdoor cook-outs. My wife and I are both in our seventies and were given no cause to feel unwanted in their presence.

My wife and I are both retired public school teachers. I retired in 1969 after teaching 42 years in the Cleveland city schools and my wife retired in 1972, after teaching 30 years (mostly in the Cleveland Heights-University Heights city schools). Again, we say, these young people are someone to be proud of, and we commend them highly.
