The S.C. Student Association elected officers and conducted workshops at its first conference of the year this weekend in Columbia.

The organization, which signed its constitution in February, is a lobbying agency for students in S.C. colleges and universities.

Four officers were elected at the conference: Tara Anderson from the College of Charleston was elected executive director; Jeff McCormack, an associate director; Chris Haulise from USC-Salkehatchie was elected treasurer; and Valerie Cote from Wofford was elected secretary.

The conference elected three at-large board of directors members: Bill Rotti from USC-Aiken; Jane Surrill from Clemson; and Tiah Walker from Columbia College.

Four workshops were offered, including "Student Government Effectiveness," by Steve Beckham, executive assistant to USC President James Holderman and "S.C. Budgetary Process and the Role of the Commission on Higher Education," by Fred Sheehan, chairman of CHE.

From Staff

FOUR from the National Action Council in conference

From Staff Charleston Tara associate director; board Steve Beckham, Government Student Principal Rud Carter received Minorities and academic Twenty-two to the program during the number students commitment 1985-86. The program distributed $14,200 in scholarships These 1985-86. The program distributed $14,200 in scholarships These 1985-86. The program distributed $14,200 in scholarships These scholarships were given through the National Action Council for Minorities in Engineering which had scholarships for 1985 and 1986. Twenty-two of the students receiving scholarships were S.C. residents.

NACME is a coalition of corporate leaders, university administrators, and other programs from USC were elected to increasing the number of minority engineers in the United States. During the 1982-83 academic year, 2,774 awards were distributed to 125 schools for 3,500 students through the organization's Incentive Grants Program. Awards are made to engineering schools that show a commitment to recruiting and graduating an increasing number of minorities.

STUDENTS INTERESTED in working on the conference during the summer and/or fall should attend a meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in room 321, Russell House.

Applications will be taken for staff positions. No experience is necessary. For more information, call 777-7108.

SAMBINO'S

Across From Towers
Last one of the year!

BEER

BUST

Thursday, April 14th
Buy any Sub or Chicken Dinner & Drink all the beer you can from 7:30-10:00 p.m.

ATTENTION STUDENTS

DON'T CARRY YOUR WINTER CLOTHES HOME THIS SUMMER.

for $5.95 plus cleaning charges, we will clean, press, and store your clothes for the summer.

- Cold Storage Vaults Insure protection from moths, fire, and theft.
- Temperature and Humidity controlled
- Fully Insured

Pick up your clothes next semester cleaned, pressed, and ready to wear.