Under his direction, Bankers Trust has grown into the third largest bank in the state, with more than $1 billion in assets. The bank has endowed a chair of economics in the College of Business Administration in honor of Dewey Johnson, W.W. Johnson's father.

BOORSTIN received his undergraduate degree with highest honors from Harvard College and his doctorate from Yale. As a Rhodes Scholar at Balliol College, Oxford, England, he completed his "double first" in two degrees in law and was admitted as a barrister-at-law of the Inner Temple, London.

Boorstin is an active editor and author whose books have won the Bancroft Prize, the Parkman Prize, the Dexter Prize and the Pulitzer Prize for History.

Before becoming librarian of Congress, Boorstin was director of the National Museum of History and Technology (1969-1973), and senior historian of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. Before that he was the Preston and Steigl Morton Distinguished Service, "Professor of History at the University of Chicago where he taught for 25 years.

An alumnus of Spartanburg High School and USC, Wardlaw was a reporter for the Columbia Record and the Associated Press in the 1950s. In 1969 he joined the university, where he served for many years in various positions, including journalism instructor, news service director, sports information director and as the first director of its University Press. The press published several books under his direction that gained national attention.

In 1959, Wardlaw went to Texas to organize and direct the University Press of Texas. He developed it into one of the leading university presses in the nation, and more than 600 books were published during the 25 years the press was under his direction.

In 1974, he joined Texas A & M University to found and develop a new press. When he retired in 1979 with the title of director emeritus, it was going concern with a rapidly expanding list of scholarly and regional books.

For many years Mr. Wardlaw was active in the affairs of the Association of American University Presses, serving two terms as its president and leading in the development of its international programs.

Congratulations!

The following clubs and organizations have successfully completed the renewal procedure. If your name is not appearing, your organization is not licensed for the 1983-84 year (April 1, 1983 to March 31, 1984). Any questions concerning this should be directed to Donna Null or Kent Bell at the Student Activities Center, Russell House, 777-5780.

SOUTHERN WOMEN'S SERVICES

...to talk to someone who cares

- Problem pregnancy counseling
- Abortion counseling and services
- Pregnancy tests
- Birth control services
- Trained counselors
- Speakers for school & civic groups

Abortion counseling & services

"Confidential Contact With Someone Who Cares"

254-4368
1614 Two Notch Rd.
Answering Service

South Toward Home Government
Student Atristic Aid Network
Sports Club Council
Sport Parochial Church
Students for Accessibility
Student American Pharmaceutical Association
Student Bar Assn.
Student Christian Fellowship
Student National Education Assn.
Student Nurses Assn.
Student Personnel Assn.
Student Public Health Assn.
Spades Racquet Assn.
Tax Day Assn.
Tax Beta Assn.
Tax Delta Assn.
Theravon Dorm Government
Undergraduate Anthropology Student Assn.
USC Central Correctional Institution Student Government
USC Italian Club
USC Pub. Team
USC Student Alumni Assn.
USC Medical Student Assn.
USC Students for Life
Wake Hampton Real Dorm Green
Wake Hampton Dorm God.
Wagner's Society of USC
Mentor Club
The Way Campbell Outreach
Western Student Assn.
Women's Law Assn.
Wren's Club
W_METS FM Radio
Young Democrats
YOTA Tau
YOTA Sigma
YOTA Zeta Tau
YOTA Zeta Alpha

You are invited to attend

"Leadership, and More"

April 20, 1983
Russell House
sponsored by The Student Activities Center and The Student Organization Licensing Committee

This is a chance for all new student officers, those anticipating running for office, and those interested and concerned members, to develop and sharpen their leadership skills.

SCHEDULE

Session I
3:30 - 5:30 Reception
Room 327 Russell House

Session II
4:50 - 8:00
- Meetings and Committee Management
- Promotion and Publicity
- Recruitment and Retention
- Fundraising and Intro to University Paperwork (101)

You're your organization is welcome to bring several representatives in order to cover the sessions presented. Look for more information in the Gamecock or contact Donna Hall in the Student Activities Center, Lower West Wing of the Russell House or call 777-2323 or Lori Perle at 7-5782.